Dear Mark:

It is hard to believe but we have been in our new office space for 4 months. I have been meaning to write to you to thank you for your assistance in building out our 33,000 square feet offices at 9888 Jasper Avenue.

I was so happy that you won the competitive bid process because you have done the last four major projects for us and those experiences left me confident that the process would be the same as to timeliness and efficiency.

I wish to convey my pleasure with respect to your onsite employees. They were knowledgeable and confident with the project and its progress. They were particularly attentive to our concerns and followed up with great communication. This friendly environment made the relationship with the building owners feel like everyone was on the same team.

As I have said in the past, getting a project successfully completed depends on picking the right people and trusting them. In this case, Goldwing Construction Inc. was there for us.

I took a bit of time to discuss the financial results with our CFO. I can tell you that he was very happy with the overall costing and in his opinion the actual cost were bang on to the budget. As we are accountants you must now how much we value such accuracy.

In closing, this office space has positioned us in the market right where we want to be. It is modern and well thought out and makes a statement about our future in Edmonton. Goldwing Construction Inc. has played its part in helping us get there.

On behalf of the firm I wish you great success in your endeavors.

Yours truly,
